Read this story about Jan's weekend.
What tense is it, past, present or future?

Jan finished work late on Friday. He worked in a pizza take-away restaurant. He was very busy in work on Friday. Many people ordered pizzas. He left work at 11 pm and arrived home at 11.30. He was very tired. He watched TV for about an hour and then went to bed.

He woke up at 10 am on Saturday morning. He did not have work today. He was happy. He had a big breakfast and read the newspaper. After breakfast he went shopping at ALDI. He bought many things: bread, cheese, milk, chicken, beef, fruit, vegetables, biscuits, juice and wine. He went home and had lunch.

After lunch he went to the gym. He did some exercise and went for a swim and a sauna. He was tired after the gym. He had a short nap. Then he had a shower and went to his friend's house.

Jan and his friend watched football on television. It was the champions League final. It was very exciting. Jan and his friend drank a little wine and ate some food. His friend cooked hamburgers. After the football Jan and his friend went to a bar in the city centre. He and his friend met some other friends and they chatted together. Jan went home about midnight.

On Sunday Jan did his housework. He washed his clothes and cleaned his kitchen and bedroom. On Sunday evening Jan worked at the pizza take-away restaurant. It was not very busy.

Jan had a nice weekend.
