

At the Doctors

Doctor: Good morning, how are you today?

Patient: Good morning doctor. I am not feeling well.

Doctor: Oh that's not good. What is the problem?

Patient: Well, I have a stomachache and a very bad headache.

Doctor: Mmmm. How long have you had them?

Patient: For about 2 days now.

Doctor: Have you been eating and sleeping?

Patient: No, not really. I ate a little yesterday. I didn't sleep very well last night. I have also been vomiting a little too.

Doctor: OK, I think you have a stomach illness. I am going to give you a prescription for some antibiotics. And please try to eat something, like some soup or bread. And also drink lots of water.

Patient: OK thank you doctor. Goodbye.

Doctor: Take care. Bye bye. Call me if you don't feel better!

At the Doctors

problem headache thank you better prescription illness vomiting sleeping feeling

Doctor: Good morning, how are you today?

Patient: Good morning doctor. I am not _____ well.

Doctor: Oh that's not good. What is the _____?

Patient: Well, I have a stomachache and a very bad
_____.

Doctor: Mmmm. How long have you had them?

Patient: For about 2 days now.

Doctor: Have you been eating and _____?

Patient: No, not really. I ate a little yesterday. I didn't sleep very well last night. I have also been _____ a little too.

Doctor: OK, I think you have a stomach _____. I am going to give you a _____ for some antibiotics. And please try to eat something, like some soup or bread. And also drink lots of water.

Patient: OK _____ doctor. Goodbye.

Doctor. Take care. Bye bye. Call me if you don't feel
_____!