

My name is Abdi.

I am from Somalia.

I live in Rathmines in Dublin 6.

I came to Ireland in 2016.

I am a student at DALC.

In Somalia, my family has a farm.

Every day I cycled for twenty minutes from my house to my farm. On the farm, I had cows. I also had corn, beans, tomatoes, and watermelon. There was one big problem. Sometimes the Shebelle River would flood, and the farm would be destroyed.

I came to Ireland because I had problems in Somalia.

I like Ireland because it is a peaceful country and Irish people support me.

In the future, I want to improve my English and computer skills, and I would like to get a job. Inshallah.
